

4 DIRECTORS ELECTED TO LIBRARY BD.

Four directors were elected and annual reports showing an increase of about 6,000 in book circulation last year for a new record were presented at the annual meeting of the members of the Adams County Free Library Association Thursday evening at the main library on E. High St.

President Dean Asquith presided at the meeting and in his annual report made a plea for county-wide interest in helping the library meet its physical needs.

Speaker for the evening was Prof. James Pickering of the English department at Gettysburg College who spoke and showed colored slides he made on a 30-day trip to the British Isles last summer.

New Director Named

Miss Ann Faber, Gettysburg, L. S. Long, Gettysburg R. 3, and Mrs. Q. W. Hershey, York Springs, were elected for three-year terms on the library association's board of directors and Lewis M. Bosserman, Gettysburg, was elected as a new member of the board to succeed the Rev. Nevin Frantz, Gettysburg, who was not a candidate for re-election.

The election came by acclamation after C. P. Keefe, chairman of the nominating committee, presented his report.

About 50 attended the meeting and heard Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, librarian, report circulation gains for the last year which set a new high of 207,964 loans in 1956. The previous high in 1955 was 202,000. Mrs. Wilson said the overall three per cent increase in circulation included a nine per cent jump at the main library, 39 per cent increase at branches and 74 per cent at adult stations through the county with these figures attained in part through the establishment of additional stations last year.

Need More Books

Loans at the main library last year totaled 43,346 for a new record while school borrowing dropped slightly to 150,690.

Speaking of the importance of an "adequate and increasing budget for new books," Mrs. Wilson said: "Our problem here is not why Johnny can't read but how to find enough."

APPEAL FROM ASSESSMENT IS WITHDRAWN

The appeal of the Inland Foundation, Inc., to the county court from the assessment of its 47-acre property in Biglerville was withdrawn Thursday afternoon according to papers filed by Attorney Richard A. Brown, of the law firm of Swope, Brown and Swope, with the prothonotary.

The papers were a notice to the prothonotary that the plaintiff has discontinued the case. The appeal had been scheduled for a hearing before the Adams County court January 24.

Had the matter been pressed it would have been the first appeal from an assessment to reach the county court in years.

Attorney Brown's notice contained no reasons for the withdrawal. The deeds to the property show that Inland Foundation, Inc., of Indianapolis, Ind., listed as a charitable corporation, purchased the property from Rice, Trew and Rice, June 30, 1955, for $628,000.

One-fourth Assessment

Under the new law set up by the commissioners several years ago assessments are set as one-fourth of the actual value. Normally that is the sale price value, which would have indicated an assessment of $157,000 would have been made.

The complaint filed by the Inland Foundation when it originally made its appeal to court said the property had been assessed at $127,000, which indicated the county assessment board believed the real value of the property to be less than the amount shown by the deed as paid.

In its complaint the Foundation stated that it had paid taxes totaling $12,700 in 1956.

Pleased With Today's Talks

One of the out-of-town subscribers to The Gettysburg Times of long standing and an avid reader of this newspaper today addressed a communication to George Matthews Adams, author of "Today's Talks" a regular feature of The Times for many years. Her name is withheld. Her letter, however, follows in full because it is felt other readers might like to know how she feels about this news feature:

"This is one of my New Year's resolutions! I promised myself a note must be written telling you, how much 'Today's Talks' have meant to me and helped me.

"God has blessed me so richly with renewed health that I have to share my gratitude and joy, with all those who have directly and indirectly helped to make that possible.

"I have filed 'Today's Talks' ever since I left Gettysburg. I often turn back and read, which is like a refreshing drink from a cool and clean spring! God has no road without its springs! So you have gained an old and a new friend, which you so often write about.

"May the best of everything be yours in this New Year."

Gettysburg Will Be Featured In Inaugural Parade Monday

HARRISBURG, Pa. — George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman of Pennsylvania, announced today the full details of Pennsylvania's organized participation in the activities incident to the inauguration of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Ten special trains and motorcades will converge on Washington from all parts of Pennsylvania, bringing thousands of persons from the Keystone State to see the President sworn in on the Capitol steps, Monday, January 21. The largest of these elements are expected to originate in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Easton. The train originating in Pittsburgh will be headed by large groups along the route.

Pennsylvanians have purchased more than $25,000 worth of seats to the Inaugural Parade, Mr. Bloom said. They have reserved hundreds of rooms in the nation's capital, indicating the number will be in Washington for the full three days of the inaugural program.

More Snow And Cold Are Forecast For Some Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More snow and continued cold was the wintry weather outlook for broad areas of the country today.

The season's longest cold wave — more than a week in some Midwest and Eastern areas — has brought record low temperatures and heavy falls of snow.

Nearly a foot of snow fell yesterday in the Buffalo, N.Y., area as a near blizzard whipped off Lake Erie. Snow fell during the night and early morning in most of the Great Lakes region and southward into the Ohio Valley and also in the middle Mississippi Valley.

Heavy snow was expected off the east end of Lake Ontario, with lighter amounts for central New York and sections north of Albany. New England also was in the path of the snowstorm.

Colder air extended southward into the South Atlantic Coast states and only extreme southern Florida was out of the frigid belt. Temperatures were below freezing along the middle Gulf Coast region with readings near freezing extending into extreme northern Florida.

Richmond, Va., reported record low marks of 8 above for both yesterday and today.

Readings near or below zero were general again today in most of Pennsylvania and New York and northward into New England as well as across the northern Great Lakes into the upper Mississippi Valley.

In addition to the cash donations, the Red Cross chapter here shipped more than 100 pounds of new clothing, chiefly underwear and sweaters, to a Red Cross depot to be forwarded for use by Korean refugees.

Moose Gives $50 To March Of Dimes

The Gettysburg Moose lodge at its meeting Thursday evening at its home on York St. awarded an order for 2,300 pounds of turkey to James Meyers, Gettysburg R. 5.

The turkey will be used for the annual dinner for members and lady guests to be held next Wednesday and Thursday evening at the Moose home. Cards have been sent the members listing the night on which they are to attend the meal. Secretary Dewey Wolf said. Because of the large membership of the Moose not all members and their ladies can be provided with a meal on one night.

Five new members were received bringing the current drive for 50 members to 46. A transfer from Hanover lodge was accepted. A donation of $50 was voted for the March of Dimes.

GETTYSBURG TO BE TV FEATURE SUNDAY NIGHT

Gettysburg, where the critical battle of the Civil War took place, will be dramatized Sunday evening at 9:30 o'clock on Allstar Cooke's "Omnibus" TV program with the presentation of Alvin Sapsinsley's verse play, "Lee at Gettysburg." The program centers about three of the leading generals of the battle, Robert E. Lee, J. E. B. Stuart and James Longstreet.

Designed as an epic tragedy after the style of a classic Greek drama, this 90-minute play was composed by a veteran TV dramatist, Alvin Sapsinsley. The drama points out the fatal flaws in the personalities of these otherwise brilliant men.

Longstreet's delay in taking the offensive in the battle, usually regarded as the major cause of the southern defeat, is attributed to his resentment of the more scholarly, upper-class Lee, as well as to his differing views on battle strategy. Stuart failed Lee in the Gettysburg campaign by undertaking a raid that distracted him from his duty to reach Lee with important information. The play suggests that this adventure derived from Stuart's great need to show himself as a leader and hero. Lee is regarded as having been too easy-going with his men.

"You can be proud of this accomplishment and have the assurance that your Red Cross is meeting fully its commitment to render humanitarian service to our Hungarian neighbors who have suffered so much."

Adams County motorists have donated $1,897.41 so far toward the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, chairman of the annual fund campaign for the Adams County unit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported donations for the second week.

Each of the owners of the 13,000 private cars in the county was sent a letter asking donations to the polio fund. "There are a number of people who have not had the polio vaccine and we still have the continuing care of those who suffered from the disease before the vaccine became available," Mrs. Codori said.

Require Continued Care

Last year care for six countians who became victims of the disease plus continued care of those who have been stricken in other years caused an expenditure of more than the approximately $5,000 that was the county's share of last year's fund drive. ## URGES PAINTING AS HOBBY FOR OLDER FOLK

Ernest Krape, local art instructor, recommended painting as a hobby "to reduce the bitterness of old age" at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday evening at the YWCA for the fourth session of the organization's School for Modern Living. Members of the artist's Thursday night art class were guests.

The speaker, who was first an interior decorator in Palm Beach where he decorated the home of Barbara Hutton's parents, turned to painting when faced with a physical disability. He has made it a career.

In his talk, entitled "Enrichment Through Painting," Mr. Krape said "each person is really a creator to the limit of his ability and a painter is a specialist, an individual who should always be himself." He said: "If you have the desire to paint, you can paint. But there is no substitute for work and no short cuts. A beginner should paint naturally as a bird sings. What one can't say in words perhaps may be said in paint. An artist may be able to get the spiritual aspect that photography cannot get."

He closed the lecture with Kipling's "The Poet" and said "painting can bring you closer to God and what can be more enriching than that?"

At the close of the talk a general discussion was held on color in the home and abstract painting. Mr. Krape answered questions by members. Mrs. Edith Bushman, program chairman, presided.

140 FARMERS PUTTING WHEAT LAND IN 'BANK'

With 140 county farmers already signed to place wheat land in the 1957 Soil Bank program, Roy A. Weaver, chairman of the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, today reminded farmers that corn acreage can be placed in the Soil Bank acreage up to March 8.

At the same time he urged farmers who are planning to put part of their corn acreage in the Soil Bank to make application "quickly" because the allocation of funds for Soil Bank payments is on a "first come, first served basis."

Pennsylvania has been allotted $3,916,000 for Soil Bank payments for corn land in 1957, and "Adams County is only a small part of the state as a whole." For wheat, $4,082,000 was set aside for the state.

Last year 12 million acres of land throughout the U. S. which previously had been used to raise wheat, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco were placed in the 1956 Acreage Reserve, Weaver said.

He quoted Secretary of Agriculture Benson as saying: "In spite of the relatively good start in 1956 we do not consider that year's program as a fair trial for the surplus-reducing possibilities of the Soil Bank. We anticipate a much more successful program in 1957."

A number of changes have been made for the 1957 program, Weaver said. "Most of the changes are to insure producers a fair and equitable opportunity to take part in the 1957 program. Farmers have already, through the nation, pledged more than 10.5 million acres of winter wheat in the 1957 program for that crop."

"Among the important changes is a maximum that has been set on the amount of acreage that a particular farmer can put in the acreage reserve when he signs an agreement," Weaver said.

Other Provisions

"At the time the original agreement is signed a farmer can indicate on that agreement the number of additional acres he would like to put in the Reserve if additional funds are allocated to his county. After the sign-up for a crop has closed, payment money which is not obligated will be reallocated to another county or another state. Then additional acres applied for will be accepted to the extent that funds are available. Applications for 1957 acreage reserve agreements are to be accepted by the county committee on a "first come, first served" basis to the extent that county funds are available. If more funds are available to the county after the regular sign-up period additional acreage can be put in the acreage reserve by those who applied for it, still on a first come, first served basis.

"There will be no minimum acreage limitations on the amount of land that may be entered in the program, except those already in effect for winter wheat. The maximum for any farmer to place in the reserve is his allotment for the commodity. Within this limitation, for wheat, the maximum acreage that may be originally entered are 50 acres or 50 per cent of the farm allotment, whichever is the larger. Corn has a limitation of 20 acres or 30 per cent of the allotment, whichever is larger.

"If a farmer puts the identical land in the reserve in two successive years he receives a 10 per cent boost in his regular payment for the second year."

The FBI Story — by Don Whitehead

CHAPTER 11

FBI Lab: Science Fights Crime

The United States marshal at Nome, Alaska, had a problem, in murder to be solved.

In mid-March of 1936 a blizzard swept out of the North. The icy winds moaned across the Alaskan mountains and the flatlands, driving men and animals to shelter. John Nilima, an old-time prospector and trader, retreated into his log cabin at a remote place called Old Buckland Village.

In the fury of the storm, a man stole to a sheltered side of the cabin, looked through a window raised a rifle, took careful aim and shot John Nilima through the head. Quickly the killer opened the door and stepped inside. He looked at Nilima to be certain he was dead; then he found the trader's cashbox and hurried back into the blizzard. The snow soon covered his tracks.

Bullet Discovered
The U.S. marshal searched the cabin but the only clue was the bullet from the rifle of the killer. The slug had gone through Nilima's head and embedded itself in a log. The marshal pried the bullet loose.

In the days that followed, the marshal found himself with two suspects. The first was an ex-convict, a known enemy of Nilima who had once threatened to kill the trader because of an argument over prospecting. The marshal noticed stains on his socks.

"Is that blood?" the officer asked.

"Yes," the ex-convict said. "I shot a reindeer and some of the blood dripped on my socks while I was dragging it home."

The marshal checked the ex-convict's rifle. It had been fired and hadn't been cleaned. Despite the man's protests of innocence, the evidence seemed strong against him.

New FBI Lab
The marshal knew the FBI had a technical laboratory in Washington, D.C., where evidence was examined by scientific means. It was a new development in law enforcement but worth trying out. Carefully he bundled up the rifle, the blood-stained socks and the bullet fired from the killer's gun. He mailed them to the FBI.

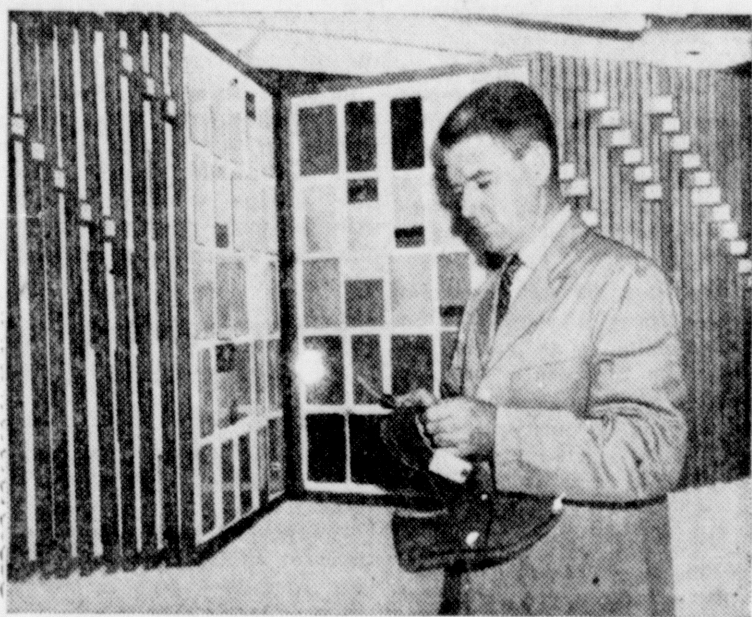

The marshal's second suspect was a young Eskimo who had been spending more money than usual at a trading post near his village. He, too, insisted he was innocent, and he stubbornly refused to account for the source of his money. The marshal took the Eskimo's rifle and mailed it to the FBI also. Then he waited for the answers.

Ex-Convict Cleared

In the laboratory, the pieces of evidence were given to the men who had helped launch this project less than four years before. The stains on the ex-convict's socks weren't human blood. And a ballistics expert found that the fatal bullet hadn't been fired from the ex-convict's rifle. Both reports supported the ex-convict's claims.

Then a test shot was fired from the Eskimo's rifle into a cotton-filled box. The bullet was placed under a microscope beside the death bullet. Slowly the two bullets were revolved until the trained eye at the microscope saw that the grooves and lines etched on the bullets by the gun barrel matched perfectly.

No two gun barrels are alike in minute detail. The inside of FBI Laboratory has developed scientific crime detection to fine point. Here researcher checks paint on shoes of hit-run victim against panels showing paint of every model of American automobile. Laboratory's facilities are available to police departments, other law agencies free of charge.

each barrel has its own peculiar imperfections in the metal which leave fine lines and grooves on the bullets fired through the barrel. It might be said that these bullet markings are the personal autographs of each gun barrel.

When the expert saw the same lines and grooves on both bullets, he knew the bullet that killed John Nilima could have come from one gun only — the gun owned by the Eskimo.

The ex-convict was freed. The Eskimo confessed to the murder and was sentenced to serve 20 years in a federal penitentiary, trapped by the scientific crime fighters through methods now accepted as routine.

In less than a quarter of a century, the FBI's scientific tools for use against crime and subversion have become more and more complex, and progressively more effective.

Business Skyrockets
Official examinations in the laboratory's first 11 months of active operation totaled 963. During the fiscal year 1956, the laboratory made more than 140,000 examinations of evidence submitted by agents and by local law enforcement agencies.

The FBI laboratory is divided into a number of different sections and units. For example, the physics and chemistry section has units which handle firearms, blood, toxicological, hairs and fibers, metallurgical, petrographic and spectrophotometric examinations; the document section handles handwriting, typewriting, forgeries, fraudulent checks, obliterated writing, charred documents and related examinations; and the electronics section is engaged in designing and developing new electronic equipment for use in the field and in setting up and maintaining a network of radio stations for use in the event of an emergency.

graphic copies of forged checks and anonymous letters; type specimens from virtually every known make of American typewriter; animal hairs, including some from a wallaby and a wombat; rubber heels and tire prints; samples of the paints used by automobile manufacturers; and about 42,000 different records of watermarks in paper. Day after day, these files provide the clues which help to link a suspect with a crime.

Cites Defense Counsel

Attorney Donald M. Swope, who spoke on the role of defense counsel in the trial of a criminal case, said: "The public most generally has role of defense counsel. People see it as thrilling and glamorous and at other times as a sordid and corrupt profession. But it is a job that is really an important and integral part of the administration of justice. There are many safeguards in the law to protect people charged with the commission of crimes.

The role of the defense counsel is to present the case of every defendant accused of crime to the jury. All the safeguards which the law provides for the protection of an individual should be made available to the defendant. It is the jury which determines the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

The defense counsel merely submits the defendant's story to the jury. Because the defense counsel presents the defendant's story and gives him his rights under the constitution as a free citizen of a democracy does not necessarily mean that the counsel is on the wrong side of the law. If the man is guilty he is still entitled to certain inalienable rights. Many lawyers in Adams County at one time or another have participated as a defense counsel in court."

books for Johnny and Nancy. The real test is holding the reading interest of our young patrons and plenty of new books is the chief requirement.

In his annual report, President Asquith expressed the hope that service clubs or other groups in the county looking for service projects adopt library needs. "The library is part of our educational system and stands ready to serve all who call upon it."

Earlier J. Albert Blackburn, McKnightstown, chairman of the property committee of the board, had outlined physical needs of the library. He listed the need for expanded reading room space, enlargement or replacement of the heating system, adapting the newly-acquired female academy building for library uses, painting the exterior of the library building and improvements in sidewalks and parking areas as matters needing future attention. He pointed to improvements of the last year.

The treasurer's report was given by William C. Darragh, a director, substituting for Treasurer L. S. Long. Out of total expenses last year of about $21,500, $9,676 went for salaries and $4,369 for new books in addition to $900 in book orders placed in the year and not yet paid. Capital expenses totaled $2,355. The library ended the year with a balance of $319. Chief receipts came from the county, state, Community Chest, school districts, the Gettysburg borough council and gifts from interested groups and individuals.

Staff members and members of the board were introduced.

Now that the days are so much shorter . . . followed by nights that linger long . . . ing $6,858 on the $127,000 assessment "under protest," which indicated that Biglerville borough and schools would have had to retain one-fourth of the sum in a special account until the matter was finally settled, as it was with the withdrawal of the petition.

In its appeal the Foundation noted that the tax assessment while the property was in possession of Rice, Trew and Rice, for the 1955 tax period, was $28,375. The appeal to the court stated that an appeal had been made to the commissioners and a hearing held. FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. Rose Murren Is First State Woman Chosen Master Farmer: The first Pennsylvania woman ever to be awarded the title of Master Farmer, an honor sparingly conferred upon the best men farmers of the state, received a medal and citation at a luncheon at noon today in the ballroom of the Penn-Harris hotel at Harrisburg.

Pennsylvania's first woman Master Farmer is an Adams county woman, Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover, R. 3, who since being widowed 20 years ago with a family of nine children has bought and paid for, managed and made a living from a 140-acre farm in Mt. Pleasant township while she reared her family and carried off many county honors with her dairy herd, her ten-litter pigs and her prize-winning corn and potatoes.

With her youngest son, Simon, aged 20 years, Mrs. Murren attended the luncheon given today by the farm magazine, The Pennsylvania Farmer, and with eight other farmers from this state received from M. C. Gilpin, an editor of the paper, a gold medal and a special citation.

Fine Support For Birthday Party January 20 Reported: M. D. DeTar, chairman of the 1942 President's Birthday Ball committee, today announced a meeting of the entire committee at the Hotel Gettysburg Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Fifty "wishing wells" and fifty coin collectors are displayed throughout the county in which individuals may deposit donations for the fund.

County Paralysis Victim Improves At Warm Springs: Unable three months ago when she was admitted to the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia to raise herself to a sitting position unassisted, thirteen-year-old Martha Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Martin, Gettysburg, R. 4, is making progress at Warm Springs that is pleasantly surprising her doctors here and at the foundation.

Most severely afflicted of the 10 infantile paralysis victims of the 1941 epidemic in this county, Martha was admitted to the foundation on Sunday, October 26, through the efforts of her physician here, Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, and the financial cooperation of the Adams County Chapter of the National Foundation for the prevention of infantile paralysis.

Now, less than three months after the hydro-therapy and advanced physio-therapy treatments were started, Martha can walk unassisted in the foundation pool and uses only a brace on the left leg when walking about the hospital. Martha was taken ill in August and paralysis of both legs developed.

British, Australian, And Indian Troops Counter-Attack To Save Singapore: (By The Associated Press) — Singapore, Jan. 23 — British, Australian and Indian soldiers who have checked the main Japanese Army for three days threw their full and desperate weight today into a tremendous counter-offensive which blazed some 80 miles across the state of Johore.

Artillery crashed on the eastern Malay coast; forward troops were fighting the Japanese in the center and in western Malaya, which held the greatest threat to Singapore; the Australians and British were locked in close quarters fighting with the Japanese.

LT. J. H. Riley Goes Back To Hospital: Lt. Joseph H. Riley, who has been spending a 30-day sick leave at his home on Chambersburg street, was removed Thursday to Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., where he is a patient as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident near Danville, Virginia, on October 31.

The officer, who suffered four fractured vertebrae, four fractured ribs and a possible fracture of the pelvis, is improving and is able to be about several hours each day. He was accompanied to Washington by his wife and brother-in-law, Leo McDermitt.

KEEP SEARCHING

This is an age of searching for more and better ideas. Every important manufacturing plant now has a great group of investigators and researchers. It is this study and researching that has given us such great progress.

This is what has conquered so many diseases and made all life safer and happier. We have yet many diseases to conquer but progress is being made. Curiosity is a wonderful thing. People want to know. So they inquire and learn. For years people dreamed about talking with one another a long distance apart. They were laughed at — but it came about, as did the electric lamp and our radio, automobile, airplane and dozens of other "impossible" things.

I read in my newspaper today how one fellow thinks he has discovered the secret of life itself. But I guess we will have to wait a while on that one! What a change plastics have created! To science, and those who keep it alive, we owe more than we can ever repay. What a multitude of tireless men and women are at their laboratories each day!

One thing that keeps a collector at the job is that he gets such a thrill over constant search for the lacking items he hopes some day to discover! I can testify to this, for I have been a modest collector for nearly half my life. Etchings? Yes, I have them. I can understand a collector. He's an inspired researcher! And a happy one.

I searched for nearly ten years just to discover one rare book! Yes, I got it and have already passed it on to a college where an endless number may enjoy it. That is another joy of the collector. He can pass his collections on for others to enjoy.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Turning Points" Presented, 1957, by The George Matthews Adams Service

NO DIETER

Temptation always conquers me.
I'll fight through thick and thin.
But strong as I would like to be
I know I'll never win.
I'll fight it off with might and main.
With courage and with skill,
The championship I never gain,
For I am weak of will.

I practice what is wise to do,
I work for muscles strong.
I'm good for just a round or two,
But fifteen seem too long.
I'll strike a blow and take a blow
Sometimes upon the shin,
But when temptation is my foe
Too quickly I give in.

I eat the foods I shouldn't eat,
I often stay up late,
I'm over fond of pastries sweet,
I carry too much weight.
I read the doctor's diet list
And promise to obey,
But pie and cake I can't resist,
Deny them though he may.

My doctor shakes his head at me
And passes out his pills.
Well trained in aches and pains
Is he
And all the human ills.
And always when he turns away,
Upon his round to go,
He shuts his bag and stops to say:
"You eat too much, you know."

Early Transfer: Lieutenant Colonel E. G. Arnold, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg college, has been notified by Third Corps area headquarters, Baltimore, that he will soon be transferred. He was not immediately advised when he will leave or where he is being assigned.

Colonel E. J. Oliver, now on duty in San Antonio, Texas, will succeed Colonel Arnold as head of the military department at the college. So far as is known now Captain John C. Hollinger and Lieutenant Mitchell, also attached to the R.O.T.C. staff, will remain here for the present.

Colonel Arnold came to Gettysburg in August 1938 from Fort Jay, Governor's Island, New York, where he commanded the First Battalion of the 16th Infantry to succeed Major George Abrams who was transferred to a post in Georgia. In July 1939 Colonel Arnold succeeded Colonel L. L. Lampert as head of the military department when the latter was transferred to Schofield Barracks, Honolulu.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist party boss Khrushchev could work on a railroad. He's an natural-born switchman. But the switch he pulled last night was another example of the emotionalism, and confusion, in the Kremlin.

The Soviet brandy and Chinese wine, flowing freely at a big reception, may account for his reference to "God" and a hereafter in Moscow which is supposed to be the citadel of atheism.

But Khrushchev, who last Feb. 25 denounced Stalin as a mass murderer and mental monster, said: "As a Communist fighting for the interest of the working class, Stalin was a model Communist."

Not Inconsistent

He said this was not inconsistent with what he had said last February. And in a sense it wasn't. For in that speech less than a year ago, a speech which shocked the Communist world, Khrushchev had also said:

"In the past Stalin doubtlessly performed great services to the party, to the working class, and to the international workers' movement."

So the real switch in Khrushchev's performance last night was not so much in what he said of Stalin as in his attitude toward Stalin. His February speech was mainly denunciation, with a fragment of praise. Last night it was almost all praise, although far briefer.

Change Of Tactics

"In the things that counted, that is the interest of the working class as Stalin did," he said.

Noting later that some of those present might not want to join him in the toasts he proposed to the Chinese Communists, he said, pointing heavenward: "If you do not, it will be counted against you in the final reckoning up there." The fact that he shifted his attitude toward Stalin is evidence of the impulsive and all-considered attack he made on the dead leader in 1956 and that now he and his friends in the Kremlin think it necessary to change their tactics.

Heirs To A Myth

When Stalin died, those who took over were heirs to a myth: the whole Communist world, inside and outside Russia, had been trained to regard Stalin as the infallible fount of goodness and wisdom.

His heirs, to do their job, needed devotion to themselves. The memory of Stalin stood in their way. That was one good reason for trying to demolish his image. But there was another.

In the new phase of the cold war, with the "spirit of Geneva" still pervading the world, they were anxious to erase the memories of the ferocity and barbarisms of Stalin in order to make communism seem more palatable.

But they did it so suddenly that they didn't take time to prepare Communists inside or outside Russia for this startling reversal.

Series Of Explosions

The result: a series of explosions inside Russia itself, in the satellites, and in the Communist parties around the world. These events caused Russia more loss of leadership and control of world communism than Stalin had suffered in all the years between the 1920s, when he took command, and 1953 when he died.

Stalin's heirs had to do an about face or, perhaps, face disaster through a continued loss of control. One method, apparently the only one which seems possible, was to reinstitute the iron rigidity of Stalin's day.

A First Step

What Khrushchev did last night was to try to justify Stalin, a first step toward a return to Stalinism.

The masters of the Kremlin have been credited with coolness and shrewdness and of knowing always where they were going. The events of this past year do not bear out this picture of them.

worked among them, love was demonstrated in word and action. As Christians we "called to a righteousness which exceeds the demands of the letter and seeks the spirit." When we learn to love our enemies and pray for those who persecute us, that goal will be achieved. To be perfect "as your heavenly Father is perfect" will be the highest possible standard of spiritual excellence.

states in the Union, to three units, occupying approximately two minutes of time and space in the parade.

The three units will march as follows:
(1) The Pennsylvania float featuring President Eisenhower's farm at Gettysburg.

(2) The internationally famous Valley Forge Military Academy Band of approximately 50 pieces.
(3) The Mounted Horse Troop of the Pennsylvania State Police, in full parade uniform.

Mr. Bloom said that the Pennsylvania State Police will be mounted on 40 horses, marching eight abreast.

Carried at the head of the line of march will be a large felt banner, 15 feet long and 3 feet high, bearing one word "PENNSYLVANIA." The banner will be carried by the Band Front of Gettysburg College. The majorettes in the Band Front, all students at Gettysburg, are Sandra Johnson, Barbara Burke, Bonnie Bankert, Lois Winneberger, Kay Meyer and Sandra Wolf. Arrangements for their participation were made through the courtesy of General Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College.

Marching in front of the Pennsylvania float will be the three famed Burg sisters, of Red Lion, Pennsylvania. They are nationally famous majorettes and baton champions. Alita, 21, is a world champion never defeated in competition. She is currently head majorette at Syracuse University and has appeared throughout America. Dawn, 19, national one-baton champion and former state high school champion, is currently the head majorette at Gettysburg College. Joyce, 16, is currently the state high school champion and is junior national runner-up.

Outstanding Float
Pennsylvania will have perhaps the outstanding float in the entire parade, which will be the maximum width and length (40 feet by 15 feet) allowed by the National Inaugural Parade Committee. Its color theme will be mountain laurel, the state flower. It will be pulled by an Air Force jeep, driven by Air Force cadets.

The front of the float will pay tribute to Pennsylvania's western pioneers, with a reproduction of Fort Pitt, surrounded by the new buildings of the Golden Triangle at Pittsburgh. The water fountain will be in operation on the float.

The entire center of the float will be a gigantic keystone, in green turf, with a precise scale model, in the largest size possible, of the President's farm at Gettysburg, including all of the buildings, the new driveway, and the putting green.

Six Girls On Float
The top and rear of the float will remind onlookers that Pennsylvania is the cradle of liberty in America, with a scale model reproduction of Independence Hall on the Mall. As the float goes by, spectators will see a scale model of the Liberty Bell on the reverse of the float.

Six girls, representing all sections of Pennsylvania, will ride the float, together with two young frontiersmen up front.

The girls will be headed up by Miss Pennsylvania of 1956, Miss Lorna Ringler, of Upper Darby.

LIBRARIAN IS JAILED, FINED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Mary Knowles, a librarian of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., today was sentenced to 120 days in jail and fined $500 for contempt of Congress.

U. S. Dist. Judge Ross Rizley said in passing sentence: "I just can't bring myself to say to her that she should not serve some time. I wish I could, but I can't."

The maximum penalty under a conviction for contempt of Congress is a year in jail and a fine of $1,000.

Mrs. Knowles, 46, was convicted by Judge Rizley a week ago on 52 of 58 counts of an indictment charging she unlawfully refused to answer questions before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee July 29 and Sept. 15, 1955. She refused to say, among other things, whether she had been a Communist in the past.

As soon as Judge Rizley imposed the sentence Mrs. Knowles' attorney, Henry Sawyer III of Philadelphia, moved that the sentence be suspended and that Mrs. Knowles be placed on probation. This was promptly denied.

The judge, however, allowed Mrs. Knowles to remain free on bond pending the outcome of an appeal which Sawyer said will be filed.

Pa. The others will include Jeanette Barthall, of Royersford; Barbara Edmundson, Pittsburgh; Patty McClay, Mt. Lebanon, and Sally Ann Heim, of Harrisburg. The girls will wear colonial costumes. The frontiersmen will be Duff and Bruce Greene, of Camp Hill, Pa. The boys, both varsity football stars, will wear buckskin.

Feature GHS Band
Mr. Bloom pointed out that Pennsylvania was extremely fortunate in also having the Gettysburg High School Band in the line of march, since Gettysburg is the home town of the President, although the band will not march with the Pennsylvania contingent. The Gettysburg band will be seen with the Citizens for Eisenhower section of the parade and will wear its regular uniform.

The Pennsylvania boxes at the Inaugural Ball will include the state chairman, Senator and Mrs. Edward Martin, National Committeeman and Mrs. Jay Cooke, National Committeewoman Gaynelle Dixon and Mrs. Katherine Martindale, president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

Pennsylvania headquarters will be in the Hotel Washington, in a suite on the eighth floor. The Republican State Committee is holding a reception on the roof garden of the Hotel Washington on Sunday afternoon, from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock. Invitations for this affair were sent out this week.

Will Probe Illegal Visas To Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) said today the House Immigration subcommittee will investigate what he termed the "illegal" grant of visas to about 6,200 Hungarian refugees.

He said in an interview the visas were "illegal because there were no guarantees of employment and no such screening as the law provides."

In order to speed admission of the refugees, the usual requirements for individual guarantees were waived, and church and welfare groups were permitted to make mass guarantees for employment and housing of the refugees.

Vacant Building Damaged By Blaze

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A vacant four-story building at 9th and Race streets was badly damaged by fire today.

Firemen were summoned to the scene in suffocating weather and were hampered both by the cold and the dense pall of smoke that blanketed the area.

A major traffic tieup was caused during the morning rush hours. Four alarms brought firemen to the scene from all central city fire houses.

No one was reported injured.

TEN ARE ARRESTED

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Jakarta military command today arrested 10 officers and civilians in a security crackdown.

An army spokesman said military police arrested the men at home and seized some documents "for security reasons." More arrests were predicted.

The arrests apparently had no connection with the recent army-led coups on Sumatra.

DETROIT POLICE O'HARA'S BOOK; HAD WON AWARD

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police censorship on books — previously confined to the inexpensive paperback editions — has been extended to the regular clothbound editions for the first time with the banning of John O'Hara's prize-winning novel "Ten North Frederick."

The ban was announced personally by Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins. It applies to both the paperback and hard back editions and to public libraries.

In announcing the ban yesterday, Piggins said: "This is not a book I would want my sons to read."

Inspector Melville E. Bullach, head of the 11-man police censor bureau, last week ordered the paperback edition of the novel withdrawn from sale. He said the novel contained "obscene passages."

Will Fight Ban

Piggins said he ordered all copies of the book banned "in order to be consistent."

In New York City, Random House, which published the book, said it would fight the ban.

O'Hara, in Williamsburg, Va., questioned whether Piggins was competent to determine what is "obscene."

The book, which chronicles the life of the scion of a wealthy Pennsylvania family who fails to realize his political ambitions, originally was published in November, 1955. It was given the National Book Award in fiction by a committee of the nation's top writers.

Mount Drubs Baltimore After Late Start; Sullivan Gets 33; Host Georgetown U. Saturday

After trailing 28-23 in the first 10 minutes of play, the Mt. St. Mary's College dribblers, led by Jack Sullivan, went on a scoring rampage in another Baltimore University 123-79 in a Mason-Dixon Conference game at Baltimore Thursday evening.

The triumph lifted the Mount conference record to 5-1. Georgetown University's strong quintet invades Emmitsburg Saturday evening for a non-conference affair.

Sullivan was completely shackled by the close-guard Dick Geraghty in the first eight minutes of play when he failed to score but he began an onslaught thereafter which was good for 21 points in the remaining 12 minutes of the half and wound up with a 33-point total.

Trio Take Up Slack
During Sullivan's shutout period Bert Sheing, Ed Galen and Tom Leonard took over the scoring and kept the Mount in contention. Sheing landed 24 points and Galen 16 during the evening.

Baltimore seemed headed for an upset in the first 10 minutes when they took a 28-23 lead. Led by six points from Sullivan, the Mount registered 10 straight points to send the Blue and White ahead 33-28. Sullivan connected for 15 of the next 19 points as Mt. St. Mary's roared to a 59-45 half time advantage.

The Bees were completely outclassed by the defending Mason-Dixon conference champs in the last half when they were outscored 64-34 as their pressing could not cope with the Mount zone.

Score Not A Record
The point total of 123 was not a new mark for Mt. St. Mary's. The record was set during the 1954-55 season when the Mountaineers laced Washington College at Emmitsburg with a 141-point total.

Ready To File Probe Report

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Dauphin County grand jury was reported ready to make a report today on its investigation of conspiracy, bribery and corrupt practices in the operation of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission under Republican control.

Dist. Atty. Huethe F. Dowling declined comment but it was known his aides, in cooperation with the State Justice Department, were drafting a presentment. The nature of it was a closely guarded secret.

State Supreme Court Justice Herbert B. Cohen charged while he was attorney general that one-time Chairman Thomas J. Evans was part of a plot to fleece the commission of 19½ million dollars. All concerned denied the charges.

Gov. Leader has described the operation as "one of the greatest public swindles of all times."

Rice and Texas have met annually on the football field since their first meeting in 1914. Texas holds a 26-17 edge.

BOSTON'S NEW GOALIE FIGHTS FOR HIS BERTH

By BOB HOOBING
BOSTON (AP)—While rookie Norm Defelice fights to hold major league status as Boston's goal-tender, the Bruins have left the door ajar for his nerve-shattered predecessor, Terry Sawchuk, to return to hockey.

A weary Defelice, called up from Hershey on short notice because Sawchuk said he was quitting, turned in 34 saves last night as the Bruins tied Detroit 2-2.

The 23-year old youngster who had won seven of his last eight games in the Hershey nets settled down after a rocky first period when the Red Wings' Bill Dineen scored on a hip-high 20 foot shot. Defelice never saw.

Hard On Nerves
In the third period Ted Lindsay tipped in a long Gordie Howe shot to tie the game but it was the kind of a play which is almost unstopable.

"I hope my nerves can stand it," Defelice said after the game in an obvious reference to Sawchuk's departure. He had been asked how he felt about his chance to be Boston's regular goalie.

Sawchuk departed earlier in the day by train for his Milford Mich. home saying he had quit the game for good because of nerves. Earlier in the season Defelice filled in for Sawchuk when he was bedeviled with mononucleosis (blood disease). (Defelice had a 3-1 record in that period.)

This time Defelice's appearance has a more permanent aspect and he responded admirably though he took a train at 4:30 a.m. After shutting out Springfield 4-0 Wednesday night in Hershey and arrived here 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

As Defelice summed it up after the contest: "I'm tired."

COURT TEST ON PRO FOOTBALL'S RESERVE CLAUSE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Professional football's freedom from federal antitrust laws rested with the Supreme Court today.

The court heard arguments yesterday in a session highlighted by Chief Justice Warren's discussion of the reserve clause used in professional sports contracts.

The suit raising the point was brought by William Radovich of North Hollywood, Calif., a former lineman for the University of Southern California and the Detroit Lions of the National Football League. He charged the league with violating antitrust laws.

Charge Monopoly
District and circuit courts in San Francisco threw out Radovich's suit for $105,000 in damages from the league and some of its member clubs. Radovich, now a retail grocer, contended he was blacklisted for jumping in 1946 from the Lions to the Los Angeles Rams for the now-extinct All America Conference. He said this prevented him from landing a job with the minor league San Francisco Clippers.

Radovich charged the NFL seeks to monopolize professional football. But the lower federal courts, in dismissing his suit, held that football, like baseball, is entitled to exemption from the antitrust laws. The Supreme Court has so ruled in the case of baseball.

John Powers, who has had trials with the Pittsburgh Pirates, paced the Southern Assn. in home runs in 1956. He hit 39 for New Orleans.

Jr. High At Home Tonight Against Washington Twp.

Washington Township sends its basketball teams here tonight for a twin bill with the Gettysburg Junior High dribblers in South Penn League games. The jayvees meet at 6:30.

Gettysburg High's Warriors travel to Middletown for a senior high league doubleheader. Other league games tonight include Carlisle at Hanover, Shippensburg at Chambersburg and Mechanicsburg at Hershey.

Adams County League games on schedule this evening are New Oxford at Boiling Springs, East Berlin at York Springs, Big Spring at Littlestown and Biglerville at Fairfield.

Delone Catholic, having snapped a four-game losing streak Wednesday evening, will try to make it two straight at Westminster.

Four Children Are Burned To Death

WAREHAM, Mass. (AP)—A grieving mother related today how four of her five children perished shortly before midnight last night in a fire that destroyed their five-room home.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Smith, 36, and her daughter Beulah, 14, escaped from the house seconds before it was engulfed by flames.

Dead are: Annette, 8 months old; Chester, 3; Phyllis, 10, and Kenneth, 13.

The father, Jack Smith, 60, was admitted to Taunton State Hospital three weeks ago after a breakdown. He was told of his loss later.

POSTS $3,000 BOND
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A 19-year-old driver from nearby Dunmore has posted $3,000 bond on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the traffic death of Stephen Alexuk, 79.

Alexuk was killed last night by an auto driven by Robert Mesko. Mesko told police the man stepped into the path of his auto on North Main St. here.

BRADLEY BEATS HOUSTON 81-64 TO LEAD PACK

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

Tabbed as the "dark horse" of its conference early in the season, Bradley is running ahead of the Missouri Valley basketball pack today.

Upsetting its opponents' stalling tactics, Bradley rallied to defeat Houston 81-64 last night to lift its pace-setting conference mark to 5-0. On the year, the 12th-ranked Braves are 12-2.

Midterm examinations have put the college scheduled at a comparative standstill.

Jayhawks Idle
The Kansas Jayhawks, top-rated in this week's Associated Press poll, are idle until Feb. 2 when they will attempt to gain revenge for last Monday's 39-37 setback by Iowa State.

North Carolina (No. 2) will stand on its 15-0 record until Feb. 5 when it meets Maryland.

Bradley used a full court press to stop Houston's stalling game. Houston took a 2-0 lead at the start and then held the ball for about two minutes. The Braves went into the press and shot into a 45-28 half time lead.

Lost Two Starters
Houston lost two starters, Dean Evans and Russ Boone, on personal fouls early in the second half and Bradley upped its advantage to 74-60. Joe Billy McDade, with 17 points, and Gene Morse, with 14, paced the Braves' attack. Both are sophomores.

Elsewhere, Bob Gibson sparked Creighton from behind to hand Drake its sixth straight loss 74-60. St. Peters (N.J.) whipped Adelphi 94-73 to stretch its winning streak to 17 games over a two-year span.

TIGER JONES IS HEAVY FAVORITE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, rated No. 3 among middle-weight contenders, is looking beyond tonight's fight toward a possible chance at the title sometime this year.

Jones, who lost to Gene Fullmer in a close fight last April, will be facing Hardy Smallwood of Brooklyn in tonight's 10-rounder.

Jones wants another crack at Fullmer, who took the middle-weight championship from Sugar Ray Robinson some nine months after his fight with Jones here.

Jones, of Yonkers, N.Y., is a heavy favorite to whip Smallwood. The Brooklyn boxer has lost four in a row and has an 18-8-2 record. Jones is 41-17-3.

The bout replaces a scheduled Johnny Saxton and champion Carmen Basilio. The Saxton-Basilio bout was postponed because of an injury to Basilio's right hand.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Crosby Picks Bucs For Fourth Place
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bing Crosby, who owns 15 per cent of the Pittsburgh Pirates stock, thinks the club will finish fourth in the National League race this season.

"All we need is a left hand hitting catcher, a left hand pitcher and a good left handed outfielder," Crosby said on a movie lot where he is starting another picture. "If that sounds like a call for help, it isn't—we already have a head start with Bobby Bragan as manager."

FORESEES NEW STATE TRAFFIC SAFETY POLICY

HARRISBURG (AP)—The head of Gov. Leader's Traffic Safety Council said Thursday that Pennsylvania soon should have "a positive and workable traffic safety program" through adoption of a series of recommendations by the council.

Dr. Amos E. Neyhart, executive director of the council, summed up a series of proposals by the council designed "to make highway safety a fact instead of fiction" in Pennsylvania.

Recommendations requiring legislative action ranged from setting up standards for brake fluid to directing state or private institutions to furnish information to the Bureau of Highway Safety regarding the mental and physical condition of any person applying for a driver's learner permit.

May Be Model
"The discussions we have had on the proposals submitted," said Dr. Neyhart, Penn State University traffic safety expert, "indicate that Pennsylvania will soon have a positive and workable traffic safety program that could be a blue print for other states to emulate in our concerted battle to make highway safety a fact instead of fiction."

Praising members of the council for their interest in traffic safety, Dr. Neyhart said:

"Pennsylvania is one of the very few states in the country which has so active a traffic safety group willing to contribute its time and thinking to this very vital subject of saving lives on the highways and reducing auto accidents."

The council recommended that proposed legislation on use of radar in traffic enforcement be limited to the state police and organized police agencies of the first, second and third class cities.

Navy Offers Travel Pay In Advance

Raymond H. Blesing, P.R.I. USN, petty officer in charge of the Gettysburg Navy Recruiting Office, announced today that ex-Navy men are eligible for immediate cash bonuses. This is the result of the large number of men re-enlisting in the Navy.

Not only has the Navy Department authorized the payment of advance travel pay to the duty station (in private car or otherwise), but is now affording the Navy man who desires to continue a naval career his choice of the Atlantic or Pacific coast with 30 days advance leave.

The serviceman's family has increased financial protection in that allowances are advanced for men with dependents. The outstanding program allows servicemen in 62 ratings to return with the rate held at time of discharge—even though two years have elapsed.

Further information may be obtained by contacting your local Navy Recruiter, Postoffice Building, Gettysburg, on Wednesdays and Thursdays weekly.

To Refuel Atomic Sub After 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nautilus, world's first atomic submarine, soon will undergo her first refueling after two years of cruising.

The Navy said "special equipment and techniques" will be used.

The refueling will be handled by the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp., presumably at Groton, Conn., where the submarine was built.

The Nautilus began cruising two years ago today. Since then the vessel has covered 55,000 miles, mostly while submerged.

The Navy said the uranium core of the submarine's reactor will be removed and sent to the Atomic Energy Commission's test laboratory in Idaho. It will be examined there and the unused part of the uranium will be reclaimed for future use.

Says Policy Could Cause 'Difficulty'
NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru Thursday said the Eisenhower doctrine on the Middle East could make the situation there "more difficult" because it links military aid with economic assistance.

"To give economic help to these countries is good," Nehru told newsmen when he arrived from Calcutta, "but to tie it up with military help ties it up with the cold war and makes the situation more difficult."

Nehru's comments so far on the Eisenhower proposals are considered moderate.

Syrian President Shukri al Kuwailat also arrived today for a state visit with Nehru. Their talks were expected to dwell heavily on the Eisenhower doctrine, which the Syrian government opposes outspokenly.

and first class townships.

Gov. Leader was requested to have the Department of Highways improve its standards for marking highways, both in travel lanes and passing lanes and median delineations; also to prove its route and directional signs with additional emphasis on use of overhead signs well in advance of intersections of action lanes.

BOGART STAYED ON TOP OF HEAP IN HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—They buried Humphrey Bogart Thursday but his legend will live on.

What set him apart from other actors?

He was a fine performer. But there were others of his generation who were equally fine. Many of them never became stars. Many faded in their middle years.

Not Bogie. When he died of cancer at 56, he was still on top of the movie heap.

Why He Lasted
Why did he last? The answer lies in the character he created both on and off the screen.

Bogart's whole life had flavor. It was a sharp, pungent, unmistakable flavor of a true individualist.

From the start of his Hollywood career, he refused to fit the pattern. While other stars coyly sought after the press, he barked and growled at reporters. But he was viewed with affection by most of the Hollywood press.

The reason: he was copy. "The only way to get publicity is to be an exciting enough personality. Then people will write about you," he once said.

Slapped Convention's Face
Bogart loved to slap the face of convention. Most stars shun any mention of liquor and remove glasses from the table when they are photographed.

"I defend my American right to take a drink when I feel like it," Bogart said defiantly. Citing the proverb "In wine there is truth," he said he distrusted nondrinkers — "They must have something to hide."

One of his favorite theories was that the world is three drinks below normal. He claimed war, strife and intolerance would disappear if everyone caught up.

Didn't Conform
Bogart had opinions on everything, including politics. An ardent Roosevelt man, he campaigned for Ike vs. Taft before the 1952 convention, then came out for Adlai Stevenson. To add to the confusion, he founded what he called the Progressive Independent Reactionary party with himself and writer friends as presidents.

Bogart fascinated all of us because of his very independence. We live in a conforming world.

The Bennetts live here. That's Grandmother Bennett's Bible on the window sill, and the whole family goes to the church across the snow covered field.

John Bennett works in the local bank. Martha, his wife, is president of the PTA, and they have three lovely children. Grandmother Bennett has been living with them for the past couple of years, since she broke her hip. She can't always get to church in wintertime and that's why she calls this her window. When she can't be in church, it helps to be able to see it.

To her, the church steeple represents a great many things, and brings back many memories. Her son was married in that church. Her husband was buried from it. Her grandchildren were christened in it.

The Church has helped her to bear grief, in hours of sorrow; and it has seemed to put a benediction upon her happiness, in times of joy. Most important of all, whatever the occasion, whatever the crisis . . . the Church has always been there.

To Grandmother Bennett, the most comforting thing in the world is knowing that it always will be there.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible, daily.

Sunday School Lesson

GOSPEL RIGHTEOUSNESS

Matthew 5:13-20, 43-48

Key Verse: I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven, Matthew 5:20.

The people of the United States have always prided themselves on the high standard of living maintained and enjoyed. In this lesson we are asked to be specially concerned about the high standard of Christian living which Christ expects of His followers.

The Church has been criticized because it does not demand enough of its members. If so, it is not true to its Leader for He laid down very specific qualifications — that His disciples must attain a "righteousness that exceeds." And He did not come to abolish the law and the prophets, but to fulfill them in spirit and in truth.

The lesson passages are from the famous Sermon on the Mount — a discourse which has often been called "the constitution of the Kingdom of Heaven" because it sets forth the purpose and method of this Kingdom and explains clearly the meaning of discipleship. Jesus was very explicit in His teaching: that His disciples must attain a higher level of moral and spiritual living than is common to most people.

"Salt Of The Earth" After showing in the Beatitudes the type of character His disciples should possess, He went on in Matthew 5:13-16 to show the influence they should have in the world. To illustrate His point He began by saying, "You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored?" In those days salt was considered more valuable because it was scarcer. In ancient times it was used as money, and the word "salary" comes from it — the salt a man earns for his work.

How can we apply "salt" to the kind of discipleship needed? Salt is a preservative and can keep food from spoiling. It also purifies. Therefore the work and influence of Christians can keep the world from spoiling; men of faith can flavor society and purify the Church when spiritual life has become stale. Jesus expects His disciples to provide the devotion, the Christian words and action, the proper religious relationships with other men, thus witnessing to their faith and giving the restorative qualities necessary to sweeten all of life.

Good For Weed-Killer On the other hand, if the salt loses its taste it is of no real value—only good for a weed killer. Only the weak will allow themselves to grow ineffectual as enthusiastic workers in the Kingdom. Jesus demands purity of thought and action as is seen in the other illustration, "You are the light of the world." The faith of a follower will shine out because nothing can hide it. The admonition "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven" does not mean that you must seek the spotlight on every occasion or use your faith as an advertising medium. The test comes in the latter part when God is seen to be glorified as Father and Creator of all.

Some of the sources of flavor and light needed by Christians everywhere are given in Matthew 5:19-20. Jesus never attempts to change the law or prophets so honored by the Hebrews but interprets them in a new way, emphasizing the motive and spirit rather than enforcing the former religious pattern of the scribes and Pharisees. He urges men to think and act positively — to do God's will by loving Him and all mankind. This new law of love was a bit hard for His hearers to understand at once. But as He lived and (Continued on Page 4)

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS HISTORY OF COMMUNITY

"Littlestown Speaks" was the theme of the program at the meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity Wednesday evening in the POS of A hall, when guest night was observed. Attendance was large. "Early Days At Conewago" was the subject of the speaker, Kenneth K. Kroh, brother of a club member, Mrs. Karl P. Bankert, who told his audience that the community in which they live was established thirty-one years before Peter Little laid out the town, and was a part of the region known as the Conewago Valley.

He said that Adams County was established in 1800 and that there was much contention over the ten thousand acre tract of land, chosen by John Digges and known as Digges Choice, which included both Littlestown and Hanover, from the time it was surveyed in 1732, until the Mason and Dixon Line was established in 1767, and it was thought to be within the limits of Maryland.

The first roads in the section were Indian trails, followed by fur traders, until the Monocacy route was laid out and this was traveled by Revolutionary soldiers and their prisoners of war, by General George Washington and by Benjamin Franklin. The first settlers in the Littlestown area were the Andrew Schrivers in 1734, and they lived on the site of the present Millard Basehoar farm, near Christ Church. The first school was established as early as 1745, and doubled as a place to hold worship services; each church congregation maintained their own school until the public school act was adopted. Christ Church was the first church established in the area, and the first log building was erected in 1755.

from Germany, established the community in 1760, which was first known as Petersburg. The founder was buried at Christ Church in 1773 and his tombstone may be seen there. In 1800, the population of Littlestown was 250. Mr. Kroh had a number of historical documents on display and answered questions asked by the members. Mrs. Joseph R. Riden, chairman of the program committee introduced the speaker, a local rural mail carrier, and a descendant of the original settlers here. She also presented Gary Strevig, who sang two vocal solo selections, "Dear Hearts And Gentle People" and "Memories," accompanied by John Groft, the sons of club members, Mrs. George W. Strevig and Mrs. Alvin J. Groft.

Much interest was shown in the hour-long film, taken under the sponsorship of the Alpha Fire Company in 1941, of the landmarks, the churches and their congregations, the organizations and industries. Harry W. Badders, son and brother of former club members, Mrs. Harry M. Badders and Mrs. Hamilton C. Walker, was narrator, and Charles E. Tressler, whose wife is a club member, operated the projector. The film included scenes from a club meeting in 1941.

The business meeting preceded the program and was in charge of the president, Mrs. Alice P. Rebert. Mrs. Karl P. Bankert was piano accompanist for group singing prior to the flag salute and the club collect. Reports were heard from Mrs. Carroll E. Arter and Mrs. Robert H. Miller. Three new members, Mrs. Robert J. Stonesifer, Mrs. Clarence W. Purdue and Dr. Leah A. Maitland, were welcomed.

Following the unanimous recommendation of the executive board, a contribution of $40 was voted toward the fund raising campaign for Little League Baseball in the community. Contributions of $5 each were also voted to the Salvation Army and to Infantile Paralysis. Mrs. John H. Fleckinger, chairman of the Welfare committee, reported that Christmas baskets had been distributed to the less fortunate families of the community and thanked the members for their contributions toward the baskets. The Lions Club paid for the meat orders for the Christmas baskets.

A communication from the National Federation appealing to club members as the homemakers of America, for emergency relief for the Hungarians, was read. Mrs. Rebert announced a request from Mrs. James W. Fager, club representative on the Adams County Home Auxiliary, for new pieces of material, thread, bias tape, and similar items for the women guests at the home, which they use to sew articles which they can sell. The next meeting of the auxiliary is on Feb. 14 and the hope was expressed that every member would contribute one of the items requested, either taking it to Mrs. Fager at her home on Lumber St., or contacting the president, who will call for the items to be donated. Guests present were introduced by club members.

LITTLESTOWN HIGH GIRL GOING TO STATE CHORUS

Miss Mary Ann Burgoon, Littlestown High School Senior, has been selected to appear in the annual state chorus program, to be presented on January 31, February 1 and 22, at Washington, Pa. The Littlestown Senior will be one of 250 students chosen throughout Pennsylvania to participate.

MARY ANN BURGOON

Miss Burgoon and Gary Strevig, also a LHS Senior, took part in the Pennsylvania district chorus programs given last Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Hershey. It was in a try-out at district chorus that Miss Burgoon was selected for state chorus. Mrs. Elmira S. Deardorff, Littlestown Jointure vocal music instructor, attended the concert held in connection with the district chorus at Hershey on Saturday. She also plans to attend the all-state chorus concert at Washington on February 2.

Miss Burgoon is the daughter of William Burgoon, E. King St., and the late Mrs. Goldie Nester Burgoon. She is very active in high school functions, such as play and operetta participation, and singing with the chorus and high school dance band. She and Gary Strevig were selected to sing an honor duet at the Christmas musical given by the high school students. Mary Ann plans to study for a career as a medical secretary after graduation in May.

committee was presented by Mrs. Charles W. Weikert. A note of thanks from the Adams County Girl Scout Council, to the committee from the club which conducted the annual Girl Scout Drive in the community, was read.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served by the hostess committee, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, chairman.

"Birthday Month" is the theme for the next meeting of the Club on February 20 when the program committee will include Mrs. Edward H. Leister, chairman, Mrs. Claude White, Mrs. George W. Strevig, Mrs. Irvin R. Kindig and Mrs. Carrie Strine. Hostesses will be Mrs. Clayton L. Evans, Mrs. Alvin J. Groft, Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon, Mrs. George C. DeHoff and Mrs. Vernon Snyder.

NEW TASK FOR HAMMARSKJOLD IN MIDDLE EAST

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A new mandate for U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to engineer the ticklish job of getting Israel's remaining troops out of Egypt shaped up today in the General Assembly.

The Arab states, Russia, the United States and Israel herself all appeared agreed on this main goal—with variations. There seemed little doubt the Assembly would give solid approval to an African-Asian resolution calling on Hammarskjold to report completion of Israeli withdrawal within five days.

30-Day Weather Forecast

Maps, based on those received from U. S. Weather Bureau of the Department of Commerce, show expected temperatures and precipitation in the nation for the next 30 days. (AP Wirephoto Maps)

Lodge Jr. announced support of the 24-nation resolution but went a step further. He recommended that U.N. Emergency Force units move in at once to fill the breach left by Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the strategic Sharm el Sheikh area, commanding the Gulf of Aqaba waterway to southern Israel.

He voiced hope Hammarskjold would come up soon with a plan for deploying the emergency force along the Egyptian-Israeli line and in the Sharm el Sheikh area. Russia's V. V. Kuznetsov also supported the withdrawal resolution after accusing Israel of indicating she intends to stay in both Gaza and the Aqaba Gulf keypoint. He also charged the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine was being used as a mask to cover up "imperialistic" American designs in that area.

Israel told the Assembly she would pull her troops out of the Gaza Strip and Sharm el Sheikh. But her foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, laid down conditions that some diplomats feared would be difficult to meet.

Not Enough

A takeover by U.N. Emergency Force units in those vital areas would not be enough, she declared. She added that Israel also wants assurances that shipping will be protected in the Aqaba Gulf, from which Egyptian guns barred Israeli shipping until the Sinai invasion.

She said the economic situation in Gaza and the fate of more than 200,000 Palestine Arab refugees there could best be improved by continuing Israel's administration in cooperation with representatives of the population and the U.N. Relief and Works Agency.

Delegates noted that Israel's chief apprehension appeared to be that an emergency force might be ordered out soon after it takes over from Israel and that Egypt might pour its own forces back into these positions.

4 MENTIONED FOR REPUBLICAN CHAIRMANSHIP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans maneuvering toward the choice of a new national chairman weighed today the effects of a telegram which later was branded as "fraudulent."

H. Meade Alcorn Jr., Connecticut national committeeman, appeared still to have the inside track to succeed Leonard W. Hall Feb. 1, but the name of former Sen. Harry Darby of Kansas was entered in the speculation by some who prefer a new chairman from the West or Midwest.

Several others also have been mentioned, among them New York State GOP Chairman L. Judson Morhouse and Presidential Asst. Howard Pyle, a former governor of Arizona.

Harold E. Stassen described as "false and fraudulent" yesterday a telegram purportedly sent by him to 40 or 50 GOP National Committee members saying, "The time has come for liberals to take a stand." But not all those to whom it went are considered in the party's liberal wing.

The telegram urged support of Alcorn for the post, but could have had the opposite effect by stirring antagonisms within the party.

Two supporters of Alcorn, Senators Bush and Purtell of Connecticut, contended today the net effect of the telegram and its repudiation could help the Connecticut man's candidacy.

Bush commented that "I hope every member of the national committee and every loyal Republican will be offended by, and repudiate this fraudulent attempt to interfere with the election of a national chairman."

Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) said Alcorn "is in high esteem among the Republicans around the nation," but added he isn't certain whether the telegram incident would help or hurt his chances for the post.

The GOP National Committee meets Saturday to start picking its new chairman, Hall, who is resigning, has said he will name then a seven-member committee to survey the situation and confer with President Eisenhower, probably Tuesday. The full committee will meet again Tuesday to pick a chairman.

Higher Interest Rates on Savings Accounts and Time Certificates of Deposit

The Board of Directors of The First National Bank of Gettysburg on December 18, 1956, increased interest rates to 2½% per annum on the above.

Recently announcement was made by Pennsylvania's Secretary of Banking that 2½% was the maximum that could be paid by commercial banks in the Commonwealth.

Consequently we are pleased to announce . . .

that we will pay interest at the rate of 2½% per annum on Savings Accounts, effective January 1, 1957, and on Time Certificates of Deposit, effective at their first maturity date, subject to the provisions of Regulation "Q", Federal Reserve Act.

As we approach our 100th anniversary in April of this year we gratefully express our true gratitude for the patronage and support which you have given us.
